Spring Fling!

David Long angles for eggs.

After a long parkless winter Brookwood Hills neighbors gathered for an annual rite of spring—the egg hunt and candy scramble on Saturday April 6. Relocated to lower Camden while the park receives its finishing touches, the party started with Erica Speed giving the go-ahead to the mass of children. They then burst through a crepe paper ribbon to pluck candy from the sidewalks and yard and to search for two prize eggs. With diligence and luck Bailey Palmer and David Long claimed the top prizes—gift certificates to Spin Street and Chapter 11 and a selection of golden eggs. The children participated in a jelly bean count contest and Fishin' for Eggs and all participants were awarded a giant pixie stick and party pencil.

Patti Junger, of Coldwell Banker/Buckhead Brokers generously sponsored the event. Many thanks to Patti as well as to the weather channel, the neighbors of Lower Camden, Lauren and John Monroe, Jill and Rich Perkey, Katie and Freddy Simon, Erica and Stewart Speed, Amy and Paul Mattingly, Mark Williams, and Karen Mullinax for photography.

Noah & Associates

When first approached about the Brookwood Hills Project I had a certain amount of ambivalence about it. First, it was a commercial project (we do mostly residential). Second, it was a park (chain link fence & swings?). Then I saw the design—huge post and beam structures and graceful Tennessee fieldstone arches. I knew it would be a fabulous project and began to dream it.

The keys to the project seemed centered around the stonework (we have the best in Charles Dowick Masonry), the cedar timber frame construction (our excellent framing group, led by Sergio Chaparro), and quality, committed subs. Plus we had a team leader/project superintendent who could handle all the dynamics of the project (which is something like staging "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "The Tempest" at the same time) and bring us in on time. That person is Jay Blasingame and we are blessed to have him with us.

It's been an interesting and exciting journey (lifting 1000 pound beams two stories, mostly with manpower) and as it draws to a close, I would like to thank Silverman Construction for getting us involved, Norman Askins for a great design, John Bencich for wonderful architectural details, Carolynn Cooper, Clark Landers, Sarah Armstrong, and the rest of the board and community for allowing us the opportunity to create this beautiful park.
